- Latest Groups: "Proyecta eTwinning" (14.11.2015).
- Global Progression: A donut chart showing 30% completion.

In ACTIVITY we can find the latest projects, events, and groups you are/were involved in.

It is also possible to read/create your posts, to check your Global Progression and who follows you, who are you following and your contacts.

About

ABOUT

The screenshot displays a user profile interface. At the top left, there are three statistics: Followers (56), Following (5), and Contacts (133). Below this is an 'ABOUT RUTE' section with a placeholder name and an organization listed as 'Central Support Service' in Belgium. The main part of the profile is the 'Progression' section, which features five horizontal bars representing different skill areas: BASIC, COMMUNICATION, COLLABORATION, NETWORKING, and QUALITY. Each bar has a dark blue segment on the left, indicating the user's current level. Below the progression bars is an 'Availabilities' section listing 'eTwinning project' with a green checkmark and 'eTwinning Plus partnership'. At the bottom right, it shows 'Last login on 01.01.2016'.

Here we can learn more about a teacher and discover whether this teacher is more into projects, events or networking through the PROGRESSION Bars. The idea is to give eTwinners:

- ☆ RECOGNITION for their achievements on eTwinning
- ☆ MOTIVATION to go beyond the basics of eTwinning

We can also see in this area the user's LATEST LOGIN and availabilities.

eTwinning Self Teaching Material

The progress bar is a tool available in eTwinning Live that shows how far eTwinners have gone in the eTwinning journey. One can see the Progress Bar as a snapshot of his/her own current portfolio of activities within eTwinning.

The concept behind it is very simple: the system records easy measurable actions carried out in eTwinning (registration, participation in projects etc.). In addition, the Progress Bar also takes into account the successful usage of Self-teaching materials.

Groups are virtual places where eTwinners meet and discuss about specific subjects, topics or other areas of interest.

There are a number of Groups sponsored by the CSS but many others are managed by eTwinners like yourself.

In this area you find an overview of the Groups the user participates in.
